NEWS ITEMS FROM JARROW

The last of the free public entertainments for the season will be held in the community hall Friday evening, March 29th. To avoid difficulties there will be no dance at the close of the social gathering Friday evening next. We hope that similar entertainments to those which we greatly enjoyed this winter will continue next fall.

Messrs. Ernie Wade, Ellis Williams and R. T. Meakins have been appointed by the local social group as delegates to the convention which will be held in Wainwright next Monday, March 25th.

Members of the Jarrows group will speak on the Social Credit in Batt school, Thursday evening of this week, with the view of organizing a study group.

Rev. J. R. Geeson of Irma preached at Kinsella and Jarrows last Sunday. His services were much appreciated.

Rev. R. W. Griffith and Mr. O. Christensen spent a few days in Edmonton last week.

Mr. Pete McNabb has been appointed to teach in the Jarrows school during the absence of Miss Reta Bothwell, who was taken to the Viking hospital Monday morning and underwent an operation for appendicitis. We are pleased to learn that she is progressing as well as expected.

The concert and social evening which was held last Friday in the community hall was thoroughly enjoyed by a large crowd. The program consisted of Irish songs and recitations. Much credit must be given to the committee consisting of Mrs. Harper, Miss Christensen, Messrs. Loring and W. Matthews, who sponsored the program.

Some of the Jarrows people are planning to attend the play given in the Kinsella United church next Friday, March 22nd, under the auspices of the ladies' aid.

The March meeting of the ladies aid was held at the home of Mrs. Tripp. Thirteen members were present. The opening exercises were taken by Mrs. Osterhout. Treasurer reported a balance of $29.02 on hand.

It was moved by Mrs. Reeds and Mrs. Johnson that the ladies' aid make all their duties and a day to do same was decided on.

It was unanimously decided to divide the aid into three groups, each group to work for one month beginning April 1st.

The groups are as follows:
No. 1. Mesdames Marsden, Reeds, F. Hill, C. T. Hill, M. Enger, Geeson, Shaw, Tripp, Smallwood, Elford.

No. 2. Mesdames Johnson, McLeod, S. Simmons, E. Simmons, Carter, Knudson, McKay, J. Fenton, Elford, Lowe.

No. 3. Mesdames Arnold, Frickleton, Osterhout, Locke, Webber, Askin, F. Peterson, G. Fenton, Blakely.

The meeting closed with the watch word, Mrs. Geeson and Mrs. McLeod serving a dainty lunch and a social hour was spent.

Celebrate Silver Wedding
On Monday, March 11th, the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. Heron of the Valley district was the setting for one of the most enjoyable activities of the winter when over 40 friends and neighbors successfully planned a surprise party to celebrate the silver wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Heron.

The first part of the evening was spent in cards and games and at midnight the tables were set with a bounteous lunch. The wedding cake was surmounted with a miniature bride and groom, the groom being dressed in full Scottish regalia.

Mr. Wm. Comley on behalf of those present, then presented Mr. and Mrs. Heron with a pyrex plate and casserole, both set in silver stands. A confetti battle, musical honors and three rousing cheers completed the presentation.

Singing and a few old time dances and Auld Lang Syne brought the festivities to a close in the sma' wee hours of the morning.

BETTER SEED
Means Better Farm Income

A few bushels of commercial grain—at a very little money—exchanged for a few bushels of Registered or Certified Seed, inspected and sealed in the sack, will return to any farmer better grade, less dockage and higher yield for his crop; hence better income.

See the Scarle or Home agent; he has a special plan to help farmers secure good seed cheaply.

All leaders in their class

Man's Priceless Possessions

To keep one's head in times of emergency and crisis, remain cool, refrain from excess emotionality; hysteria and panic, is a sign of strength, and men and women who display these characteristics prove to be the real leaders of their fellow citizens. That leadership may be demonstrated without uttering a word or doing anything spectacular, but merely by being unafraid, natural and unconcerned.

This truth was impressed upon us the other day by an incident reported in the daily press in connection with a fire which broke out on a railway car between Moose Jaw and Regina. There was a rush of frightened passengers to the rear door. One man urged calmness and an orderly exit, but little heed was paid to him. But another passenger remained quietly in his seat, looking with unconcern out of the car window. His attitude impressed others with the fact that there was little danger and no need for undue alarm. People quieted down and a near panic was averted.

The world is passing through the stress and emergency of an unprecedented economic depression. It is a time to try the calibre of men and nations. Under prevailing conditions the striking of a small spark might easily cause an explosion, and a small flame spread into a great conflagration. There are individuals in all countries striving to take advantage of the present situation to stir up trouble. They are playing on the emotions of their fellow citizens, emotions which have been stirred to the depths by the personal problems, difficulties, sufferings and loss which they have been and still are confronted. Times are ripe for the demagogue and the stirrer up of strife to ply their trade, reckless of what the final outcome might be.

But the strong men and women of the world, those who can be depended upon in times of emergency, are proving to be the real leaders in most countries. Were it not so almost universal chaos would by now be the lot of people everywhere. In this time of testing, the Canadian people have demonstrated their sanity and their strength. Notwithstanding all our problems and difficulties, and these are in no sense or degree to be minimized, the people of Canada, taken as a whole, have kept their heads, remained cool, and avoided panicky action.

In some countries people have so lost confidence in themselves and so given way to panic and become the victims of emotionalism, that they have sacrificed personal rights and liberties almost over night which it had taken generations of struggle by their forefathers to achieve for them. Thoughtlessly, in a spirit of panic, they surrendered some of the great fundamentals of life and living because they allowed others to unduly sway their emotions and neglected to keep cool and think for themselves rather than allow others to think and act for them.

Because this is so, the hands of the clock of progress have been turned back in such countries, and their future is dark and discouraging compared with those other nations where the people, and their leaders, have kept their feet firmly planted on the ground and their heads cool and minds clear. To-day in Canada and throughout the British Empire all people still enjoy that great safeguard of their liberties which is represented by a free and uncensored press and the utmost freedom in expression. Every man and woman, no matter what his or her station in life, is absolutely free to express opinions, publicly or privately, in relation to any and all matters of public policy. They are just as free to criticize and condemn as they are to applaud and praise. If they are dissatisfied and opposed to those presently in positions of authority, they are free to express their dissatisfaction and to organize to give force to their opposition.

No government agent sits in any newspaper office in Canada, no file of censorship orders lies on any editor's desk which must be obeyed. The radio, the pulpit, the public platform, is just as free to opponents of present governmental policies as they are to supporters of those policies. This is not so in many of the countries of the world. Hundreds of millions of people are now denied free expression of their views, opposition to the powers-that-be is prohibited, even the news of the day is censored, suppressed altogether, or colored to suit the views and policies of the prevailing dictator.

The essential factor for all Canadians to ever keep in mind is that; even if a so-called economic security could be obtained by them through these autocratic methods, the price to be paid is altogether too great. A slave may enjoy security provided by his master, but the fact remains he is a slave and nothing more, and what Canadian citizen desires to become a slave?

What the whole world is in danger of losing, unless the very people who have most to lose keep their heads, are the very fundamentals of civilization, namely, the liberties of the individual citizen. Once these personal liberties are lost, and might rather than right occupies the place of power and authority, it will be the great masses of the people, deprived of their democratic institutions and liberties, who will be the sufferers. Once lost, the struggle to regain these priceless liberties will have to be re-commenced, because man was born to be free. The battle to restore civilization, liberty and equality will again have to be waged.

Liberty, freedom, personal rights are priceless possessions. They should never be surrendered for anything else, no matter how attractive that something else may be dressed up and presented. Nothing else, nor everything else, can repay man for the loss of freedom of expression and liberty of action.

New War On Grasshoppers

Menace Serious As Last Year
Alberta Farmers Told

Just as relentless a war against grasshoppers will have to be waged this summer and fall as last year by Alberta farmers or tremendous financial loss will result, Lieut.-Col. E. H. Strickland, professor of entomology at the University of Alberta, who was a visitor in Calgary, stated. It is known that millions of grasshoppers will be massed ready for action as soon as their feeding season begins, but the counter offensive is more highly organized than ever before, due to sad experience in the past, resulting in a greater appreciation by farmers of the seriousness of the menace.

Col. Strickland stated that the present outlook in regard to the grasshopper menace was as serious as it was this time last year. In 1934, he said, very considerable damage was done by the insects, but the damage was considerable when compared with the grasshopper plague between 1919 and 1922, when crops on farms everywhere in the province were wiped out.

Efforts are still being carried on to discover new methods to fight grasshoppers, according to Col. Strickland, but, so far, the most practical and efficient method has been the systematic scattering of poison bait.

A BARBER WHO HAD RHEUMATISM

Tells How He Carried On

A barber who had been "a martyr to rheumatism" writes:—"I have been a martyr to rheumatism for some ten years. For five years I was so affected that it was with the greatest difficulty I was able to carry on my business. I may say I am a barber by trade. After having tried numerous remedies, I was finally advised to try Kruschen. I am pleased to say that after having used Kruschen for some twelve months, I am now freer from aches and pains than I have been for some ten years. In fact, I consider I am rid of rheumatism, thanks to Kruschen Salts."—W. M.

Two of the ingredients of Kruschen Salts are the most effective solvents of uric acid known to medical science. They swiftly dull the sharp edges of the painful crystals, then convert them into a harmless solution. Other ingredients of these Salts have a stimulating effect upon the kidneys and assist them to expel the dissolved uric acid needles through the natural channel.

Four Nuns Working Among Primitive Tribes Of Papua

The four lone women in the world have passed through Port Moresby, Papua, on their way to what many must regard as a living grave.

They are nuns of the Carmelite Order. They have gone to spend the rest of their lives in the silence and seclusion of a little convent built specially for them some 30 miles inland.

There these four white women, who have dedicated themselves to a life of prayer and work among the primitive tribes of Papua, will live shut off from the rest of the world. They will occupy separate cells, and meet each other only in their little chapel for liturgical services.

By the rules of their Order, they must eat no meat, wear no stockings and shoes, sleep on straw, not look into a mirror, and have no correspondence.

Day Of Thanksgiving

Special Services Requested In All Canadian Churches

The Canada Gazette carried a proclamation requesting special thanksgiving services in all Canadian churches May 5 and setting aside May 6, the 25th anniversary of King George's accession, as a day of general thanksgiving and rejoicing on the occasion of our silver jubilee.

The thanksgiving services on the Sunday before jubilee day were described as giving an opportunity for "appropriate expressions of gratitude to Almighty God for the manifold bounties and great mercies which our loving subjects, the people of Canada, have enjoyed during our reign."

Canadian cattle to the number of 13,592 head, in 27 shipments, were exported direct to Glasgow during the year 1934, as compared with 11,238 in 1933 and 4,016 in 1932. The quality was also greatly improved.

The more people become civilized, the more they increase their capacity for suffering.

Little Journeys In Science

PROTEINS

(By Gordon H. Guest, M.A.)

Proteins are very complex substances which always contain the element nitrogen. Proteolipin cannot be formed without proteins, and we see that life itself is dependent upon them. The word protein comes from a Greek word meaning "to take the first place", because the importance of this group of substance was early recognized.

Proteins occur in all living matter and are present in all natural food stuffs. Due to the fact that they are the chief constituents of living animal tissue, they are most plentiful in animal foods, such as meat, eggs and fish.

Scientists have found proteins to be the most complicated substances ever studied. They have found that all proteins contain carbon, hydrogen, nitrogen, oxygen and sulphur, while some also contain phosphorus. Small quantities of other elements are found in certain proteins.

Proteins are used by the body for building tissue, and also for producing energy. For providing the material for growth in children, and for repairing waste tissue in adults, they are more valuable for these purposes than the proteins in vegetables. Milk is a valuable source of protein and is especially good for children.

Science has shown that there are thousands of different kinds of proteins varying in structure and quality. During the process of digestion, the proteins are decomposed into simpler substances, known as amino acids. These are absorbed and recombined in new proportions, forming the proteins which are used for different purposes than those which were taken into the stomach. Thus the proteins in food are different than those actually used by the body.

A Pocket Submarine

Small Underwater Craft Valuable Addition To British Fleet

Britain's latest "pocket submarine," now being tested in the Channel, is showing remarkable qualities of seaworthiness, quick diving and deadliness in attack.

The submarine, the H.M.S. Shark, is a mere pigmy compared with the big overseas type of 1,500 tons which preceded her. She is barely 200 feet long, 24 feet broad, with a displacement of 670 tons. Yet she can "taxi" over 2,000 miles on the surface or, at full power, travel at nearly 16 miles per hour underwater.

For rapid diving she is unequalled by any other submarine. She can perform a crash dive in 30 seconds.

In the bows are mounted six tubes for discharging the powerful 21-inch torpedo, a salvo of which would disable any battleship afloat. On deck two small quick-firing guns are mounted for use against hostile aircraft or light surface patrols.

Eleven of these powerful and handy little submarines are to be built. They are intended chiefly for coast defence, but would be quite capable of undertaking operations farther afield if necessary. They have the additional advantage of being comparatively cheap, costing only about £50,000 each.

Now In 20,000 Pieces So Cells Can Be Examined

In Moscow, which has the largest collection of this sort in the world, the brains of the great and the abnormal are preserved.

Lenin's brain is there, and it is now in 20,000 pieces so that its cells can be examined.

And the curious thing is that it is in charge of a German brain specialist, without whose permission nobody may be it and who pays periodic visits to it from Germany.

London Zoo Takes Stock

Total Value Of Exhibits Is Forty Thousand Pounds

Stocktaking at the London Zoo has been completed, and it seems that the total value of all the animals, birds, and fish is about £40,000. First there is Moira and Mok, the young gorillas. Moira and Mok are worth about £800 each. Tigers have an easy lead over lions in cash value. A tiger is valued at £80 and a lion at £50. Flamingos are £12 10s. The three Indian rhinos deposited by the King, are the most valuable that the society possesses, and are worth £1,000 each. They come from Nepal and are very rare.

SCIENTISTS FIND FASTER WAY TO RELIEVE COLDS

1. Take 2 Aspirin Tablets.

2. Drink full glass of water. Repeat treatment in 2 hours.

3. If throat is sore, crush and stir 3 Aspirin Tablets in a third of a glass of water and gargle. This eases the soreness in your throat almost instantly.

Ache and Discomfort Eased
Almost Instantly Now

When you have a cold, remember the simple treatment pictured here . . . prescribed by doctors everywhere today as the quick, safe way.

Because of Aspirin's quick-disintegrating property, Aspirin "takes hold"—almost instantly.

Just take Aspirin and drink plenty of water . . . every 2 to 4 hours the first day—less often afterward . . . If throat is sore, use the Aspirin gargle.

But be sure you get ASPIRIN. It is made in Canada and all druggists have it. Look for the name Bayer in the form of a cross on every Aspirin Tablet. Aspirin is the trade mark of the Bayer Company, Limited.

Restore Wage Cuts

And Get A Rebuke From Premier
Of Manitoba

The Winnipeg city council was rebuked in the Manitoba legislature by Premier John Bracken because it had restored wage cuts while accepting $1,000,000 annually from the Manitoba government toward unemployment relief costs.

Premier Bracken voiced his criticism after Mayor John Queen, a Labor member for Winnipeg, had suggested restoration of a seven per cent wage reduction to civil servants. Estimates were under discussion at the time.

The province could not undertake to restore civil salary reduction as long as unemployment relief expenditures piled up the provincial debt, Premier Bracken declared.

Now Science Explains Why So Many People Past 40

Feel That They're Slipping
Losing Their "Grip" on Things

Many people "round 40" think they're "growing old." They feel tired a lot. "Weak." Have headaches, dizziness, stomach upsets.

Well, scientists say the cause of all this, in a great many cases, is simply an acid condition of the stomach. Nothing more.

All you have to do is to neutralize the excess stomach acidity.

When you have one of these acid stomach upsets, take Phillips' Milk of Magnesia after meals and before going to bed. That's all!

Try this. Soon you'll feel like another person! Take either the familiar liquid "PHILLIPS' Milk of Magnesia" or the convenient new Phillips' Milk of Magnesia Tablets. Made in Canada.

ALSO IN TABLET FORM: Phillips' Milk of Magnesia Tablets are now on sale at all drug stores everywhere. Each tiny tablet is the equivalent of a teaspoonful of liquid Phillips' Milk of Magnesia.

SYNOPSIS

"You've fallen heir to a half-share in plenty of trouble," the lawyer told Gerald Keene. "The Broken Spur has been systematically looting the ranch, and old Joe Carr, your partner, is drinking himself into ruin."

Duke Kane, desert rat and luckless prospector till now returns to tell Dustin and Spike Goddard, who had grubstaked him, of his discovery of a rich gold mine, and shows samples of the ore.

Dustin unexpectedly comes along while Stone and Edith are riding fence, and seeing them, stops and talks to Edith. He mentions their dispute could be settled by marrying him, and Edith refuses his proposal, with remarks that make Dustin furious. He insults Stone, who promptly throws him into a pool of water.

Dustin learns that Gerald Keene has been sent for, and also that Duro Stone has seen the Broken Spur men rustling Carr's cattle. He sets out with Dad Kane to learn the location of his gold discovery. Dad Kane shows Dustin the mine.

They go back to camp, and Dustin shoots Kane. He fixes the shooting on Peyotl Gregg, who is riding fence, and stung by the narcotic he had taken, did not know whether he was guilty or not. He buries Kane and then returns to the Broken Spur ranch.

Meanwhile at the Hour Glass, Carr, Crewe and Stone speculate as to the meaning of entries in the notebook belonging to Dane Kane that Stone had found. Stone thinks of a possible solution, and, accompanied by Edith Carr, rides out to Red Water to test out his theory, which proves correct, and they find the rich gold deposit mentioned in the prospector's notebook. As they return to the ranch, they meet Dustin leaving the house, who, purposely, and unsuccessfully tries to ride down Stone.

Sam Dustin, the day before Gerald Keene's arrival in Seco, cunningly suggests to Peyotl Gregg that Kane or Kane was a relative of the old prospector, and was seeking information as to the old mine whereabouts. If Peyotl wanted to live, and prevent finding out about the murder, Gregg should shoot Kane when he arrived.

(Now Go On With The Story)

When does this here man Kane get here?" asked Peyotl.

"To-morrow night; on the night train from the East. Why?"

"Huh"—Peyotl was trying to think—"Just for a question, Mist' Sam."

"Suppose that 'ere man doesn't turn up at all. . . . What then?"

Dustin eyed him covertly, but sharply. The bait was squarely before him and he was nibbling at it. He sat back in his chair and opened a drawer of his desk.

"See there, Peyotl. . . . He pointed to an open pasteboard box in the desk drawer. In that box lay an old-fashioned wooden-handled Derringer pistol, double barreled, freshly oiled with no marks of use on it. Beside it lay a green, box full of calibre forty-one cartridges; those old-fashioned copper cases green, with verdigris such as even the Frontier has only occasionally seen in forty years.

"I can't imagine myself in your place, Peyotl," said Dustin. "But I know this: If I knew a man was comin' down here to find a man that I had killed . . . if I knew that a man was comin' down here to hang me . . . well . . . it'd be his life or mine. That's all. The law justifies a killing in self-defense. If it isn't self-defense to kill a man who's out to kill you, I'll be damned if I know what self-defense is."

It was just such a specious argument as would best appeal to a drug-sodden brain. Dustin stared at Peyotl till he was sure that he had read aright the murderous gleam in the sunken eyes. Then the big ranchman heaved himself up and moved toward the door.

"Of course, I'm not advisin' you to do anything, Peyotl. I can't. I can only tell you what I'd feel like doin'." I'd sure hate to see a stranger come into this country to hang me without my havin' a word to say about it. You stay here and pull yourself together. I'll be back in ten minutes."

"One minute, Mist' Sam."

Peyotl clucked at his coat-sleeve. "When's this here man Kane er Keene due to get here?"

"On the night train at Seco to-morrow night. Wait here. I'll be back in a little bit."

Dustin waited considerably more than ten minutes. The night air drew cold in his nostrils as he stood facing the desert stars. Like a specter of the night a vision of old Dad Kane faced him accusingly. He shivered a little and dully noted that his hands were wet, yet the night was cool. Little pulses beat in unsuspected places in his mouth that were hot and dry, and from time to time a dull roaring in his ears sounded like thunder. When he finally went back to the office he glanced at the desk. The drawer was open. The Derringer pistol and two cartridges were missing.

Spike Goddard found him huddled in his chair, with his shaking head buried in his hands. He was shivering and his face was white and drawn . . . like the face of a very old man . . . and not a good man either.

"What the hell ails you?" demanded Spike. "Seen a ghost?"

"Two," said Dustin with a crackling oath. "One a week old and one that ain't dead yet. . . . I think Peyotl's in the prospector's notebook. . . . Look here, let's go."

"Let's go," he said suddenly. "Let's go. Let's sell off the Broken Spur and get out of here. We can clean up."

"Sure thing," said Spike. "That red-heifer of Carr's be damned glad to see you go."

For just a second red murder gleamed in Dustin's eyes. Then he laughed.

"Just for that," he said, "six months from now you'll be asleep in the bunk-house. My wife and I will need this house."

"Yeah? Well, she won't be no red-headed girl named Edith Carr?"

Dustin went on.

"When old Joe Carr learns that the Hour-glass has passed out of his hands he'll be worth listenin' to," he said. "Peyotl'll fix everything for us all right."

"I'm sorry you've got that half-wit on any scheme," said Spike soberly. "If he ain't got sense enough to get himself out of any murder plan, how can you count on him? If you've sent him to work on that scheme . . ."

"I haven't," said Dustin eagerly. "I don't outline any plan. I just suggested a line of thought to him and he jumped at it."

"Yeah! Am him a qualified sort o' fool at that," said Spike. "Well, we'll see what we'll see."

He stamped out into the night and Dustin turned to his decenter.

CHAPTER XIV.

When Stone drove up to the Hour-glass, Crewe was waiting for him and eyed him shrewdly in the dusk. "Come down by the corral," he said. "What did you discover?"

"Very little. It may help some, though. You talk first. Tell me what took place when Dustin came to see Carr to-day."

"It was rough hearin'," he said. "Dustin rode in here about two o'clock and said he wanted to talk with Joe. I told him to go in. You see, I don't like Dustin anyhow and I knew Joe don't like him either. Of course, it bein' a private call, I stayed outside, but I heard Dustin tell him that he aimed to marry Edith."

He told Carr that he'd always wanted to be friends with him and that if Joe was willin' for him to marry Edith, he'd call off the suit over Soda Springs and tie up the herds of the two ranches. . . ."

"Yeah. Go on. . . ."

"Well . . . old Joe sat there quite a spell sayin' nothin'. Then he says: 'Well, Mr. Dustin, then it narrows it self down to the fact that you want me for your father-in-law. Is that it?' That made Dustin mad."

"You damned old fool," he says. "I don't want you for anything. If I take Edith, I got to take you with the hide . . . He got just that."

"You know what old Joe thinks of Edith . . . what we all think of her . . . Old Joe lifted himself up to spare his game leg and I could hear every word."

"All right, Mr. Dustin," he said. "You've made yourself pretty clear. So will I. As I get it, you want to marry my daughter and tie up the herds of the Hour-glass and the Broken Spur in one. Is that it?"

"That's right," said Dustin. "The two ranches workin' together can make money. Workin' singly they can't. You're losin' money and cattle on the Hour-glass. Ain't that right?"

"I been losin' cattle ever since you and that man Goddard came to the Broken Spur," said Joe. "You'll have a clear sweep, Dustin. But my leg's gettin' a whole lot better lately. I'll all come out in the wash. You see, Mr. Dustin, a man named Colt invented a l'il tool that makes even a crippled cattle man the equal of a rustler. Don't you worry about the Springs," he says. "I'll tend to that in time. And when it comes to marryin' my daughter . . . well . . . I got a pretty good cook right now in the kitchen."

"Dustin kept his temper pretty damned good. I'll say that for him."

"I don't want a cook," he says. "I want a wife."

"Yeah?" says Joe. "Then why not stick to your own kind? Why don't you go down to the place where you keep your other women? My cook tells me there's been an old he-skunk under the barn for five years now. Come to think of it, that's just the same length of time you all've been at the Broken Spur stealin' Hour-glass cattle. I'm pretty sure that someday when that old skunk works his way into the kitchen, that cook's goin' to shoot him. Now, of course, Dustin, I can't say what Edith will

Anderson and Mrs. W. Steele. A good attendance is hoped for and all members are asked to bring sufficient print for one block of a quilt planned for at our last meeting. A very hearty welcome is extended to all ladies interested.

During the past week the junior hockey team of Irma have played two games with the Viking juniors. The first game was played in Viking last Saturday evening and was won by the Viking boys. Score 5-3. The next game was played in Irma on Monday evening, March 18th, and resulted in a complete shut-out for the Irma lads. The Irma lads tallied two goals. This was a fast, hard-fought game and shows that we have the makings of a good hockey team.

The April meeting of the Irma W. I. was held at the home of Mrs. Fletcher with 23 members and two visitors present. A very interesting paper on "Cellulose" prepared by Mrs. McFarland was read by Mrs. Larson and thoroughly enjoyed by all. The hostesses, Mrs. Fisher and Mrs. Miller, did their part very successfully at the close of the meeting. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. McFarland on Thursday, April 4th. It is expected that the Constituency Convener, Mrs. Ford, will be present, and every member is urged to attend if possible.

SOCIAL CREDIT

Under the auspices of the Irma Social Credit study group, twenty-one very successful Social Credit meetings were held at adjoining points. Speaker, Mr. Landeryou, of Calgary. Mr. Landeryou defined Mr. Aberhart's definite proposals for this province very clearly. At many of these points Social Credit study groups were formed with enthusiastic members who are prepared to carry on the work.

Avonglen Community Club

The whist drive held on Friday evening, March 15th, was declared the best ever by the large crowd present. Prizes were won by the following: Ladies' 1st, Mrs. J. Lambert, consolation Miss Marguerite Riddle; Gents 1st Mr. Ray Scott, consolation Mr. S. M. New.

A most appetizing lunch was served at midnight by the committee—Mr. Herby and Thomas Lewis and Mr. and Mrs. W. Thompson.

A short program by the following artists was greatly enjoyed: Misses L. Thompson, M. Riddle, Irene Lambert, K. Riddle and Mr. Kenneth Hudson. It was decided to hold another whist drive on Friday evening, March 29th, with Mr. and Mrs. G. N. Whiteley and Mr. and Mrs. S. M. New the committee in charge.

Mr. J. N. Carrington, delegate to the trustees, gave a very clear and concise report in Avonglen school on Saturday afternoon, March 16th.

Melrose Valley Guide Notes

Word has just been received that the Guide company gaining the highest score in the Guide provincial handicraft exhibition has been won for the second consecutive year by the above company. This is the first time that the cup has ever been held by the same company for two years. The $5 prize so generously donated by the Handicraft Guild for the most artistic and original article exhibited by any guide, was won by Audrey Christenson, also of the above company, who showed a handsome rug.

The girls are indeed to be congratulated on their fine achievement. Meanwhile the regular work of the company is progressing in fine shape. Margaret Whidden has completed her Ranger test, Audrey Christenson her 2nd class test, and Audrey and Muriel Carter have both finished their Tenderfoot work, while several girls have won proficiency badges.

The visit of the "Chief", Lord Baden-Powell of Gilwell together with Lady Baden-Powell is the next event on the Guide Calendar, when it is hoped to take all members of the Melrose Valley company to Edmonton to take part in the March Fest and celebrations to be held on April 26th and 27th.

The official list of prizewinners in the handicraft is not yet to hand but will be published at the first opportunity.
